

ABOUT THE FASHION INSTITUTE OF SOUTH FLORIDA

The Fashion Institute of South Florida is a vocational fashion school made for creative individuals seeking career opportunity in the fashion industry without paying the high cost of regular fashion colleges. Our fashion program offers weekday, evening and weekend classes to individuals who want to learn the art of sewing, pattern making, textiles, how to launch a clothing line, fashion design, and more. Our mission is to preserve the art and craft of fashion design by bringing together the best fashion industry professionals to teach lessons that inspire and educate students, home sewers and the fashion curious.

Students are prepared for any goal they have in mind such as having their own clothing line, working in the fashion industry or home sewing for themselves. This 16 course program covers each of the five fashion design disciplines: Sewing, Patternmaking, Fashion Design, Draping and Textiles to provide the foundations students need to develop a career in the industry.

The Fashion Institute believes that quality fashion design education should be available to all students with the desire to learn the art and craft of fashion design. We also believe that quality instruction should be available at an affordable price to aspiring design students.
